LIBERALS MORE TO THE COURT APPROVAL

Mackenzie King Urges Wisdom of Test Before 4,000 Persons Are Hired to Administer

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Liberals were outvoted two to one in the House of Commons last night when they attempted to refer the government's unemployment insurance scheme to the supreme court of Canada to test its validity.

In a surprise move, a few minutes before the House adjourned for the night, Liberal Leader Mackenzie King proposed the court reference before the act came into force. It was defeated 57-21 by Progressives and Laborites standing with government supporters, and in opposition.

A few minutes earlier, Premier R. B. Bennett had envisioned a national health insurance scheme. He said a conference of provincial health ministers would be called soon and that information and statistics would be gathered by the commission administering the unemployment insurance fund. The insurance scheme, he said, would be a stepping stone to health insurance.

WISDOM OF TEST
Ever since the insurance bill was introduced, Liberals have claimed it would be a dead letter on the statute books because parliament has not the power to pass it. Last night the Liberal leader suggested it was better to test the bill in court's opinion first before hiring men and women to administer the act and accept contributions from workers.

Prime Minister reiterated his belief the act was within competence of parliament and that he had no intention of referring it to the courts. It was objectionable to refer legislation to the courts.

DEFENDS ON PROVINCES
The Prime Minister intimated it would be some time before his health insurance scheme would be presented because of technical difficulties and the fact the British North America Act stipulated it was of provincial concern. But he said if the provinces were willing to waive their constitution rights and accept either independently or in co-operation.

When the unemployment insurance bill was under consideration, Liberals and Progressives combined to criticize one another, and empowered the commission to gather data on the provinces in co-operation with the provinces in drafting a national health policy. This was unnecessary, he said, and the government could just as well delegate a stenographer to do it.

DEMANDS ACTION
"It is not information we want, it is action," exclaimed James S. Woodworth, C.C.F. leader. Liberal Leader Mackenzie King said the government possessed all machinery it needed to gather the information.
"I would not undertake to be responsible," said the Prime Minister, "for any scheme until more complete information is made available than now exists. The extent to which the provinces will co-operate and co-ordinate their efforts with those of the Dominion must be determined."

HEALTH FOUNDATION
Although opposition members offered to defray the expenses from the insurance bill, they were refused as introduced. It was being set up as a national health policy. The Prime Minister, while laying the foundation for national health policy.

Although the insurance bill was before the House most of the day, the debate was comparatively quiet. The Prime Minister declined to answer the advisory committee that would oversee work of the commission, keeping track of the insurance fund solvency.

VOLUNTARY SERVICES
The advisory committee, said the Prime Minister, will have at least one woman on it and will be composed of men and women who will serve voluntarily to the country. It was announced that the insurance scheme from politics and the pressure that often results from "unfair demands being made on the resources of the fund through a heavy and unbalanced claim," especially action arising from a desire to secure the support of popular groups in power.

SENATE DEALS SETBACK TO RELIEF BILL

Wage Amendment Forced Despite Roosevelt's Veto Threat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Despite the threat of a presidential veto, the United States Senate Thursday forced the McCarran prevailing wage amendment into force. Roosevelt's $48,000,000 relief bill for the narrowest of margins—43 to 47.

So starting was the dead-end of the government. It left Democratic leaders in a quandary as to the future of the bill in congress. The White House was silent concerning the attack.

Some considered significant the fact the adverse vote came only a matter of minutes after the reading of a letter from President Roosevelt warning that the prevailing wage scales in private industry and commerce would be lowered because of the $40 a month "security wage" contemplated for relief.

Some Senators gave credit to Huey P. Long, Louisiana, for his administration defeat. Just before the vote was announced he secured a pair for Senator L. J. Dickinson, Iowa Republican, with Mrs. H. C. Dickinson, Democrat, of Arkansas, who was absent.

INSURANCE ACT HOLDS HEALTH CLAUSES ALSO

Question Will Be Debated—Liberals See Objections

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Foundations for a national health policy and a national system of health insurance are contained in the unemployment insurance bill now advanced towards final approval by the House of Commons. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett stated this last night, and at the same time refused to embark, as he said, blindly, on an immediate system of health insurance.

Liberal and Labor members of the house directed renewed fire at various clauses of the bill when it was in committee of the whole last night and attacked particularly the clause which empowers the proposed employment and social insurance commission to collect information for a health insurance scheme. They claimed the clause was useless and should be struck out if the government had nothing better to offer.

Horse Resents Alcohol Party—Turns 'Killer'
TORONTO, Feb. 22.—Three men, said by police to have been drinking out of a bottle of rubbing alcohol, entered a stable owned by Morris Senberowicz here Thursday and roused the fire of a horse by getting into the stall with the animal.

Here is what police found when they answered a frantic call from Senberowicz:
Edward Holmes, 40, dead, his body mangled by the hoofs of the excited horse.
Patrick Burns, 33, lying on the stall floor, being trampled by the animal. His skull was found to have been fractured.

Edward Fleet, uninjured by the horse, was rushed to hospital for stomach treatment when police discovered an empty rubbing alcohol bottle in the stall.

SUICIDE PLAYS AT GRIM GAME
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—At the end of a trail of notes and letters from Hollywood to Glendale, police found the body of Otto H. Brown, 36, of Glendale.

The grim "hairs and hounds" police found in the room of Otto Brown, found a note in his home.
In it, Otto Brown wrote that he was going to kill himself, and directed his brother to go to the 4300 block on Fountain Ave. for further instructions.

In that block, the brother found a second note, tied to a string and hanging from the telephone wires. He had to call a policeman to get it down.

It sent him to the 800 block on North Brand Blvd., where a second note, nailed to a pole, read:
"Go to the 2000 block on Hillhurst."

There, also nailed to a pole, was still another note announcing that Brown's body would be found at the end of Alta Vista Rd. in Glendale.

And there the brother and police found Otto Brown, dead in a car with carbon monoxide gas flowing into the car through a hose attached to the exhaust.

GIRL SURVIVES ALLEGED LEAP FROM BRIDGE

Badly Injured After Rash Act Following Lover's Quarrel

A lover's quarrel drove pretty 22-year-old Edie Dunham, employed as a domestic in the home of R. E. Taylor, 10319 99th avenue, allegedly leap off the south end of the High Level bridge around 8:30 p.m. Thursday. She will survive the fall, believed to have been 20 feet, and is at present confined with undetermined injuries in the Royal Alexandra hospital.

She left the Taylor home around 7:30 p.m. and was seen to return, going straight through the house and up to her bedroom. Miss Dunham remained there until shortly before midnight, when she entered the kitchen and complained of severe pains in her legs and hips. She was called and upon examining her, found the legs and hips swollen and suspected internal injury. Her feet were bruised from ankles to hips.

Before her removal to the hospital, the housemaid stated she was diagnosed with her friend and had attempted to take her own life. She had previously made such attempts, but they had not been taken seriously.

"I had a fight with my sweetheart, who is a bus driver on the Edmonton-Chenoweth run, and I jumped over the High Level bridge," told Dr. Nieuchas and the Taylor family.

Miss Dunham has worked in the Taylor residence since early December and came from her parents' farm near Chenoweth. She is expected to survive the bridge fall, but will face chances of amputated limbs.

SET A RATE

Another week is drawing to a close without the city council having set the tax-rate, or made any progress towards the result. It is a fact that the rate is not set, and the city is in a position to set a rate sufficiently below that of last year to give relief to the taxpayers, but the council has not yet decided to do so.

From the present outlook, council might just as well have set the rate at two per cent, set an arbitrary rate, and then gone into a huddle about how to keep expenditure within the limit. There is rather more than an element of chance that the rate will be set at a level which will give relief to the taxpayers.

There is nothing in the proceedings up to date to suggest that a rate of five mills will be set. It is a fact that the rate is not set, and the city is in a position to set a rate sufficiently below that of last year to give relief to the taxpayers, but the council has not yet decided to do so.

A good deal of sympathy is due to council in facing a situation that is hedged about with difficulties. But a good deal of sympathy is also due to the taxpayers, who are entitled to a rate which will give relief to the taxpayers, but the council has not yet decided to do so.

While we wait

Premier Bennett addressed the students of Queen's University. By the accounts it was quite a different speech to the one he made in Edmonton in reference to students at the University of Alberta. Nothing was said apparently about Queen's men being "too choosy" in the matter of hunting jobs.

Instead, the Prime Minister told his hearers that the army realm of philosophy, and finally brought them back to earth with this promise: "Why, with a superabundance of the power of the province, highways and railways at our disposal, are so many suffering from an insufficiency of the things of life?"

As Mr. Bennett and a dozen and a half cabinet colleagues have been supposedly wrestling with the same question for five years without any evidence of success, it is understandable that he should seek light on the subject.

But it isn't reasonable to suppose even a group of college students can give him the formula off-hand. In fairness they are entitled to take as much time on the job as he has spent without getting the answer.

But meantime, the "things of life" here and there are not waiting for the answer. More and more, wage-jobs supply the only effective means yet employed for distributing the buying power necessary to get these superabundant things of life.

What does the Prime Minister propose to do to keep these people alive while the students puzzle over the answer he couldn't find?

UP TO THE PROVINCES

Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of labor, told the House of Commons that the federal government wants to carry on relief next year with the assistance of the Dominion they will have to file their proposals before the end of the present fiscal year, March 31.

Which is to say, the "national emergency" is being handed over to the provinces, and the federal government is to be left to deal with unemployment. The federal authority will only take a hand in the matter on their invitation and in such ways as they may suggest.

The Minister, on behalf of the Dominion Government, thus waives responsibility for devising or proposing ways and means to deal with the situation which was declared to constitute a national problem in 1930 and which has since then become a certain and constant menace in 1935. If there is to be even a continuance of the present measures for the prevention of distress, it will be on the motion of the provinces, not the Dominion authority.

But the provincial governments need not imagine they can send along any scheme they like and get it accepted at Ottawa. Mr. Gordon makes that clear. He says Premier Taschereau of Quebec offered to bind his government to the principle of the Dominion authority, but he was told that the Dominion would meet the other half, leaving the municipalities out of the picture. That proposal had "not been acceptable" to the minister for the Dominion.

Over he felt that when Premier Taschereau made the offer "he was fairly certain that he would not have to carry out his part of the bargain."

Other provincial premiers will have no trouble finding the fine points in this courteous observation. From it they can deduce that if they send along schemes which are not "acceptable" to Mr. Gordon they will be suspected of dishonesty and subjected to insult.

"THE COURT MUST TAKE ACCOUNT"

"The court must take account of current economic conditions even in ruling on contracts"—Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the Supreme Court of the United States, in delivering the majority judgment of that court in the gold clause cases.

In that brief sentence the Chief Justice of the court of last resort in the United States shatters the whole fabric of pretence that money-contracts are "sacred" things even when they violate public policy.

Contract, he says, are properly reviewed in the light of economic conditions drastically different from those under which they were entered into.

Had that principle been admitted in the interpretation of money-contracts in Canada, there would have been no need of settlement-postponing legislation to protect bankrupt farmers and unemployed wage-earners being turned out of house and home because they could not pay money they could not get hands on.

No need of appeal to Ottawa for sweeping legislation to compel the refunding of provincial and municipal bonds.

At times have the scales even as between creditor and debtor, whether the debtor happened to be a hard-up individual or a city that could not collect the taxes it levied.

Howls from the Shylock fraternity are the natural response to this declaration that the enforcement of a contract must be modified by the changed conditions of the world.

Hope that Canadian governing bodies and courts will take courage to accept and act upon this interpretation of contracts will be the response in Canada, between individuals and collective. And not until they do so can there be any clear prospect of clearing up the debt mess, public and private.

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

W. J. Wright, who recently returned from a trading trip to Lac La Biche, brought with him a volume of the "Edmonton Bulletin" of 1913, made at Ceremona, Italy, by Antoninus Stradivarius. It was no doubt brought to the country by the Canadian, who was a Bay man and is still in good working order.

A meeting for the purpose of reorganizing the fire brigade was held on Thursday evening. The following officers were elected: President, A. McLeod; assistant chief, George P. Sander; secretary, W. H. Clark; treasurer, R. Hockley.

The hockey club gave a masquerade ball in Robertson hall on Tuesday evening, which was largely attended.

At the opening of the Manitoba legislature the speech of the Lieutenant Governor declared the government intended at all hazards to maintain the public school system.

The freight rates commission was informed at Calgary that the rate from Montreal to Calgary for 1913 was $2.00 per ton, and for 1914 was $2.25 per ton.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Ottawa—Sir Wilfrid Laurier this afternoon introduced a bill to amend the laws governing the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Edmonton is named as the provisional capital of Alberta and Regina as the provisional capital of Saskatchewan.

Flags are flying today at the city hall and city stores as a result of the news that Edmonton is to be the provisional capital of the province.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

The old common law presumption that a husband is the sole owner of the real and personal property of his wife had a practical application in a court at St. Louis a few days ago.

A female relief officer called upon a relief family to make the usual enquiries. The usual resentment arose. Both husband and wife called the lady officer names. The female of the species wasn't contented with throwing chunks of language at the relief worker.

She took a run at her head, and clouted her over the head. The outcome was that both husband and wife were arraigned in court charged with assault.

The evidence was clear that the assault had been committed by the wife, and not by the husband. But the wife has four children and the tender-hearted judge couldn't bring himself to part her from her babies. Instead, he saved his conscience and fulfilled the requirements of the law by sending the husband to jail for 40 days on the common-law theory that the husband is responsible for the torts of his wife.

It's time a movement was started for equality of the sexes.

Fritz Kreisler, the great Austrian violinist, figures in two stories this week. One has a note of sadness in it, the other a laugh.

Kreisler is not in sympathy with the Nazi persecution of artists, scientists and musicians merely because they happen to belong to the "chosen people" of the Old Testament. He has steadfastly refused all offers to play in Germany since the Nazi regime was inaugurated.

Money probably means but little to Kreisler. He has lost two fortunes—the first during the war when he served in an office for the Austrian government, was wounded in action, paroled and came to this continent, where he was engaged in the music business.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
QUESTION: Enos Y. inquires: "Will you please tell me what a pterygium is and can it be cured by diet?"

ANSWER: Pterygium is an external growth on the eyelid which may or may not be an operation. It is usually fan-shaped with the apex toward the pupil and the base toward the nose. The eye near the nose. The operation is simple and would be most satisfactory than trying to diet for the trouble.

QUESTION: J. F. R. writes: "I should be glad to have your opinion on the free use of seaweed as an adjunct to health."

ANSWER: The various seaweeds seem to be of great value in the treatment of the blood and the lymphatic system. They are rich in iodine which they contain. They may be purchased in ground dehydrated form under commercial trade names. There are a number of foods which contain iodine and are later in my special article on Food Minerals, which I will be glad to send to you if you will forward a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

QUESTION—Miss Flavia W. writes: "I am anemic, and my doctor advises blood transfusion. Do you think about this kind of treatment?"

ANSWER—Blood transfusions are most helpful after a loss of blood through hemorrhage. If you have persistent anemia, it is a serious condition and must not depend upon the advice which I can give you in such a short space of time.

QUESTION—Mrs. B. J. S. writes: "I am troubled with bladder inflammation and with an acid condition. Is this serious?"

ANSWER: The best insurance against overcoming bladder inflammation and acidosis are entirely too long to be given in a short answer such as this. The best plan is for you to write to me again. If you have had a doctor's examination, send a copy of his report, also enclose one large, self-addressed envelope and 4c in stamps.

Horoscope
By MARY BLAKE

If you expect to enjoy February 23 you will have to radiate a lot of cheerfulness. Frowns may come much easier than smiles, so it will be wise to smile. Gloom can never withstand the penetrating rays of joy.

Married and engaged couples, as well as those eager to assume matrimonial responsibilities, will be wise if they avoid any serious debates, issues which may through friction cause sparks of anger.

If a man and February 23 is your natal day, in business guard against amateur temptation to be wiser than you are. You are not a business founder, slowly but surely, your reward should fulfill your fondest expectations.

Baked Beans And Cold Cuts Make a Delicious Party Dish

By MARY E. DAGUE
If the Washington birthday party suggested the other day leaves the budgeting housekeeper still with social obligations on her conscience—i.e., friends who have invited her again and again to their dinner—let her then pick out a convenient time and they picked onions so well on the table.

Baked beans and cold cuts provide tasty informal refreshments for a mixed crowd.

est Sunday evening and ask them all to supper.

One hot dish, one cold dish, relishes, dessert and something to drink constitute an easy and adequate menu. Boudin or cornmeat may be the hot dish and a tray of cold cuts the cold one, especially if men are in the party.

COLD CUTS WITH BAKED BEANS

For an appetizing novelty, build the tray of cold cuts around pork and beans. Put the beans at one end of a large platter on a bed of crisp lettuce and greens. Then line up the cold cuts in neat rows to finish out the platter. Tongue, salt, cold, boiled or baked ham, thin slices of imported Swiss cheese, liverwurst, a garnish with sprigs of parsley, thinly sliced pickles and sweet pickles cut in fans. With this have pumpernickel and Boston brown bread. Celery, radishes, well and score ring in half-inch squares. Cover pork with remaining sauce and mix with molasses, pepper and mustard with boiling water and pour over beans. Add enough more boiling water to cover beans. Cover bean pot and bake five or six hours in a slow oven. Uncover for the last half hour of baking and bring pork to the top that it may become brown and crisp. Serve hot or cold.

BREAKFAST Diced mixed fruits, cereal, cream, eggs poached in tomato sauce and milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Pan roll sandwich, relishes and new onions, relishes, sprouts with easy Hollandaise sauce, stuffed potatoes, Brussels sprouts with easy Hollandaise sauce, chilled cheese salad, steamed cherry cup puddings, milk, coffee.

Wants Vacation From Husband Each Year

DEAR MISS DIX—I am trying to find out whether I really love my husband or not. After several months of love and devotion, I am beginning to feel as if I should get away from him one month out of every year in order to fully appreciate him. My mother and her friends think I am crazy to feel that way. Do you know what to do about it?

Answer: Certainly there is such a thing as needing a change from one's love and devotion. It is not unusual for a woman to feel that way. It is not unusual for a woman to feel that way. It is not unusual for a woman to feel that way.

What New York Is Wearing

By Helen Williams

For, no matter how fond we are of people, we get fed up on them if we have a steady diet of them. They bore us, they annoy us, they irritate us. They are the same old, same old. They are the same old, same old. They are the same old, same old.

Talented Norma Advises Paste Rouge For Use During Winter

By GLADYS GLAD
"America's Most Famous Beauty" The charming Norma Shearer, whose grand theatrical abilities have won her the academy award, almost always uses a paste rouge during the winter months. Norma believes that this form of rouge is more suitable for use during the cold weather than the dry rouge, because it tends to lubricate the skin and keep it soft and smooth. And she's quite right about that.

I personally think that, as a rule, dry rouge is best suited for the average woman, because it gives a more natural effect and is easy to blend tastefully on the face. Liquid rouge, while an effective form of makeup, is difficult to apply skillfully and, in addition, it tends to have a rather drying effect on the skin. However, for the woman who suffers from a dry skin during the cold months, the paste rouge really is the best. For a paste rouge usually contains ingredients that help to lubricate the skin, and to keep it soft and supple during the winter season.

A skin that is very dry can't hold the color of the normal quantity of impurities that lodge upon it. And when it does, the color is not natural. It is artificial. And in addition, it tends to have a rather drying effect on the skin. However, for the woman who suffers from a dry skin during the cold months, the paste rouge really is the best. For a paste rouge usually contains ingredients that help to lubricate the skin, and to keep it soft and supple during the winter season.

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

Do not take literally your friends' stereotyped "How are you?" to the extent of responding with a barrage of reports on all of your ailments since your last meeting.

Remember, always that it is in just as bad taste to give inventory of ailments as it is to crowd your riches.

TREAT RATE, SIMPLE WAY TO CURE CATARACTS AT HOME

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I have been married 15 years and have one child. I was a very pretty girl when we were married, and we were very happy for the first year. I am a good cook and housekeeper and very affectionate, but my trouble is that I have very little education. I can't read, write or do anything but what I am told to do. I am a very good mother and a very good wife, but I am a very poor educated woman.

Answer: When we speak of a man who has outgrown his wife, our sympathy is always for the man who has outgrown his wife. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way.

But if we have been to school, the one with whom we should behead is the outgrown wife, the woman who has outgrown her husband. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way. It is not unusual for a man to feel that way.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARRO

Woe Durny was so startled he just looked around and shouted, "What's that?"

"I saw it, once, when little else was being taken on a trip, as though the air, it seemed."

"Say, I've a grand idea, once again," said Winky, playing, once again.

Jenkins Explains Salary Schedule

Claiming a new impression had been created at the regular meeting of the city health board yesterday as a result of a statement made that employees of the health department had received no reductions in salary during the last five years.

Dr. B. B. Jenkins, member of the health board, declared Friday that employees in this branch of the service had not received increases in pay when the upward revision of the salary schedule was introduced in 1929.

Employees of the department, however, had received the same cut as all city servants in the intervening period, Dr. Jenkins said.

In the revised salary schedule submitted to the board this year an attempt was made to place the salaries of employees of this department on an equal basis with the scale prevailing in other departments of the city.

CANADA BONDS ON DECLINE IN LONDON MART

Vancouver Action Blamed, But British Securities Also Get Setback

By THOMAS T. CHAMBERLAIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Trading continues on the London Stock Exchange in all Canadian provincial and municipal securities, with the exception of Vancouver City issues, declined following the proposal of Mayor G. McGeer to cut interest rates in his budget.

Today's quotations, however, were not unduly affected by the news, traders of the action of the city of Vancouver, but had an unfavorable reaction on all Canadian securities, although it was not until about 10 o'clock that some of the highest-class British stocks had suffered serious setback since the beginning of the year.

"CITY" DISTURBED
London's view of the matter would have been even more marked, one prominent trader told, if the lower closing of the city of Vancouver, had not been the result of a coincidence.

September 1934, it is pointed out, was a year when the city of Vancouver, had not been the result of a coincidence.

ESKS ANXIOUS FOR WIN OVER SEAHAWK SIX

—BILL LEWIS—

South Siders and Canadians just can't seem to get together on the question of which should hold the Edmonton Junior hockey championship for 1934. . . In fact, they're just as far away from it now as they were a week ago, and since then they have had a lot of hockey. . . With Canadians leading by one game in the best-of-three series as a result of a win in the opener, the two clubs went out and battled through 60 minutes and three overtime frames last Monday before finishing in a one-all deadlock. . . After that game was out of their respective systems, it was figured by all fans one or other of the teams would win the next time out. . . But they were all wrong.

Last night, they came back with another tie, this time by a 3-3 score, and it went the same distance—60 minutes. . . That makes a total of 180 minutes of hockey in two ties in the regular time of three ordinary games. . . Now what are we going to do with a couple of clubs like that. . .

Those two games demonstrate the fact that the clubs are exceptionally well matched and that it will take another tough battle or two before a winner can be declared to enter the playdowns.

While the city junior crown is still undecided, the Stars' Superiors will tonight commence their series with Luscar for the Northern Alberta senior crown. . . The teams play this opener here and then go to the Coal Branch town for the second contest next Friday. . . The third.

ESKIMOS SECK VICTORY IN CONTEST SCHEDULED HERE TOMORROW

—BILL LEWIS—

With still an outside chance of reaching the playoffs for the Northern Hockey League championship, Art Gagne's Eskimos will be a determined crew when they face the pace-setting Seattle Seahawks in a scheduled game at the Arena Saturday night.

The Eskimos cannot afford to lose a single game if they are to figure in the post-season series for the title and, with all players anxious to give the Seattle defenders plenty of trouble in this last game of every time out.

The goal team looked highly impressive as they turned back the league-leaders here Tuesday night and they are confident they can turn the trick again tomorrow.

They seemed to have the edge of scoring power and are expected to give the Seattle defenders plenty of trouble in this last game of every time out.

Red McCusker, who has played great hockey since joining the Eskimos, should be a hard nut to crack, as he has been Tuesday he has been.

In preparation for the game, Manager Gagne had his athletes out for service at a late hour last night following the junior contest at the arena.

Salvador's battle gets underway at nine o'clock.

Third-Round Play For Scottish Cup

GLASGOW, Feb. 22.—Third round of the Scottish Scotch Cup will be played Saturday with eight first division teams, three representatives from the second and one minor outfit, Buckie Thistle, ready to do battle.

Although not the choice tidbits of the afternoon, spectators will watch closely the locally placed St. Mirren against King's Park, a second division eleven.

The St. Mirren, undrags of the premier division, expect the formidable Rangers at Ibrox Park. This game will be the feature attraction.

Last year the Love Street Striders, long known for their prowess, reached the finals of the Scottish Cup. Their opponents, incidentally, were the Rangers.

The champions beat them 5-0 at Hampden Park.

Aiming For More Points On Saturday

—BILL LEWIS—

South Side's courageous Athletics continue their battle against elimination from the thrilling Junior Hockey League playoffs, and in dividing a 3-3 verdict last night, Seafway Canadians remain halted in their stride toward a city championship.

They faltered in the first game, those fighting A's, losing 1-0, but with a fighting spirit undimmed, are still in the series by virtue of a 1-1 tie Monday and a 3-3 deadlock last night—it was the second time week South Side and Canadians have played through 90 minutes of hockey to a tie score.

TO PLAY THIRD GAME ON SUNDAY

As a result of the two tie scores, a third game will be played Sunday afternoon at the Arena, and, if a fourth game is necessary, it will be contested Monday night at the same outdoor ice palace.

Three thousand frantic fans and hundreds of Edmonton's hockey following attended, they saw two teams proven to be the best this season in the city.

They fought for six periods of the finest hockey the juniors have shown this season.

They were weary, having played 180 minutes in two games, and the bruising hockey taken toll on the players. Jerry Brown, smart South Side centre, and Harry Robertson, can Canadian defence player, were injured.

Robertson has his left eye completely closed with a deep cut, and was forced out of the game in the second overtime.

THIRD PERIOD HAS THRILLING FINISH

Ten seconds of play remained in the third period, and three terrible clips of apprehension had settled over South Side supporters.

It looked like a Canadian triumph, for Harry Robertson had placed his head—has those clips lasted only for a second or two.

A tie-clashed wave swept through the Canadian defence and Jimmy Anderson crashed the wave in the spotlight phase. He was South Side's hero.

He was a great wrestler Anderson and the whole South Side team recovered for their brief effort, and the game went on for a minute or two, the final whistle unheard and the cheering din of cheers which echoed throughout the Arena.

TEAMS WELL MATCHED

The teams have proven they are well matched, and it was only when the referee's whistle rang that penalties did either have an edge in play and for the greater part of the game it was fought on even terms.

"Scotty" Munro, Canadian goalie, who generally bats out the long ones with ease and skill, was napping on Jimmy Anderson's long shot. The rubber rolled up to the crazy Scot and passed him, instead of the goal stick for a soft South Side marker. Play opened up after the tally when Canadians pressed for the equalizer and may have got it, but for Wolfe, who saved smartly.

PENALTY COSTLY

A penalty to Robertson paved the way for South Side's second goal in the middle session with Jerry Brown on the scoring end and Danny McLeod getting the assist.

Just previous to the second goal, Jack Waterhouse missed a great chance of scoring when he pulled the puck past the goal post after smartly pulling Munro right out of the net.

With Robertson back on the ice Canadians started to press hard, but Wolfe was unshakable in the South Side goal until Bob Hasty found the net near the 16-minute mark.

Donald Ted Hasty was their Canadian first marker.

Again in the third period Hasty and Donald teamed up for a goal. It was the equalizer, with Hasty bulging the net and Donald's head peering his play of the second series.

Only three minutes of play had gone when Hasty had deadlocked the count and for 15 minutes the

RED WINGS TO TOP OF LONG STREAK

Detroit Defeats Maroons to Reach Win Column Again

Many Major Penalties In Game When Wings Gain Victory

DETROIT, Feb. 22.—Detroit Red Wings last night won their first game in 13 starts, defeating the real Maroons 3-1 in a National Hockey League game crisscrossed with almost as much fighting as there was hockey playing.

Four majors and one match penalty, one of the greatest list of long-term punishments in the league's history, were inflicted.

The game threatened to get completely out of hand in the last period when Earl Robinson, Maroons' right winger, was sent from the ice to stay after fighting with a spectator. He had traded punches with Herb Lewis, Detroit's left winger, a few seconds before, both taking major bannings.

HAWKS TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Chicago Black Hawks drew up into a tie for second position in the American section of the National Hockey League last night when they defeated the Montreal Canadiens 2-1.

The win put Chicago on an even basis with Boston Bruins, who also tied.

A lucky long shot goal by Wilder Brown early in the first period robbed Rene Chabot of what would have been his eighth shutout of the season.

EAGLES SCORE NINTH VICTORY

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—St. Louis Eagles, driving to get out of the National Hockey League cellar, reached their ninth victory of the season and their third over New York Americans by 4-3 last night, when a thrilling last-minute comeback overcame an early deficit.

With the A's leading 2-0 and Pete Kelly in the penalty box, Irving J. Frew and Joe Lamb broke free of an American press and Red Dutton tied hard to cut off Lamb shot and took the puck with him into the net as he made a wild dive to save.

The Amerks were all out trying to regain the lead when Glen Brydon slipped away to score the winning counter less than three minutes to go for the first time. It was the second goal for Brydon. Kelly scored the first

Doug Young, Detroit resigned tonight.

Jack Adams' new front line of Johnny Sorrell, Syd Howe and Edie Wilson, collected all Detroit's goals.

Sorrell netted two goals, assisting in to pick up a loose puck in the first period and beating Alex Connell again in the second. Before the second was over Detroit were three goals up, Wisconsin taking a pass from Howe.

Near the finish, Herby Smith, Larry Northcott and Coachers drove down the ice together, the final pass landing on Coachers' stick for a hard shot.

CAUSED DEADLOCK

The Londoners failed to enter the 10th round because of a successful effort a minute from time by Wayne Duggan, Washington Capitals International. His tally evened the count and the teams were still deadlocked after extra time.

Sunderland, trading on the heels of the Arsenal for division honors, will take the field without George Hunt or Tommy Evans.

Arsenal visit Manchester City in one of the key matches of the season, and the Gunners are highly pleased with Davidson, young Scottish player, transferred recently from St. Johnstone. The newcomers scored for his club at Stoke in a mid-week game, but not much more.
